Operates 10 Hours Under Full Load on 18 Gallons Cheap Kerosene

To make a tractor economical in operation requires something more than just a motor. The Waterloo Boy tractor has a 10-horse power engine from one gallon of cheap kerosene, that is equal to 18 gallons of high priced gasoline.

Our Patent Kerosene Burning Device is different from any other on the market. Transforms 8-cent kerosene into an "engine" far more powerful than the 15-cent gasoline—no smoke, no noise, no waste.
