

Vol 46 Businesses of Warren Michigan Area through the Years

The earliest known businesses were skilled hunters and skilled arrowhead makers who traded their services for other items. Next were the hair sellers. Both the French and British paid for furs and scalps. Animal pelts and human scalps were traded. Thousands of innocent persons were murdered. After the Americans got firm control this stopped. We then had rule of law rather than rule by brute force. Next ax men and chain men worked with the surveyors in 1817. Log cabin makers were rewarded with food and drink. Next came the sawmill operators. Soon store operators, brick makers, brewers and tavern keepers set up in good locations. Inn keeping was soon added as business minded people decided to profit from good locations. Sometimes hunters were paid usually by barter for being back fresh meat. Can't forget soldiers who secured the peace many of whom died in the process.

Land speculation no doubt paid off. At least three names stand out. Mr Shubael Conant a Detroit merchant was a shrewd business man. The Government was selling swamp land for one half of the standard price of $2.50 per acre. He bought a lot of land in SW Warren and resold them for great profit. The Groesbeck families who were the first buyers in Warren Township. It seemed that at one time or another they owned many parcels of land all over Warren Township. And third was Walter Piper much later on in time who developed the Baseline and Van Dyke Areas. There were lots of others. Farmers sold land to developers who created subdivisions.

Some of our oldest businesses, if you want to call them that, were our churches. In the late 1840s groups of families sometimes got together to hold religious doings. The Methodist, Baptist, Catholic St Clement and St Pauls were the first. My churches founded list has 204 churches in Warren Township but there were and are a few more. Many have disbanded. New ones continually form.

The most widespread business was agriculture. Farmers raised plants and animals both for subsistence and to sell to others. First there were scrub farms which were little plots of broken ground in clearings and between trees. This occurred from 1830-1860. Farmers girdled the trees to kill them and allow sunlight to get to the crops below. Eventually the trees were cut down. Then there were stump farms which was plowed ground between the many tree stumps. As the stumps were eventually cleared these farms became known as improved farms. This was for most farms after 1850.

Farmers later began to specialize. Some raised cattle or sheep and others specialized crops.

After 1910 or so the area became filled with truck farms who sold their produce to the Detroit markets.

Other early businesses were of course the blacksmiths, who made things of iron. Examples: horse shoes, pokers, heavy rings, knives, axes, shovels, hoes, big forks, barrel rings, heavy shears, cutting blades and repair parts for ploughs and farm implements. These were usually heavier items. The tinsmith made things usually of thin metal. Examples are lamps, buckets, pails, tubs, racks, utensils, tin boxes.

Coopers made things of wood such as buckets, barrels which could hold fluids or store things securely.

The tanner tanned animal hides so that they became useful items such as clothing or storage containers.

Other early occupations were brewers, mill operator, soap makers, brick makers, carpenters, painters, seamstress, tailors, harness makers, maple sugar makers, teachers, preachers, wagon and buggy makers.

Doctors were few and far between and often before 1900 had little to no medical training. People did not have money to pay them so they were paid in meals, chickens, eggs etc. Also it should be noted that there were very few reliable medicines. The treatment was sometimes worse than the affliction.

Specific businesses

Well the oldest business/occupation was that of Farmer Preacher Abel Warren who settled nearby in 1824.

He was followed by the early settlers whose occupation was land clearer and farmers and slightly later livestock raisers. See list on page 19 on Volume one.

We know that the Grosbecks started a saw mill business early on. There were acres of trees and people needed boards to construct houses. Of course at first log cabins were made but this often took over fifty trees and cut boards were at least needed to make a door. Wood had to also be cut to make shingles. Using cut boards used less trees and although still labor intensive was a little easier using cut lumber. Holes had to be bored and wood pins installed and beams notched to fit everything together as there were no nails.

Hartzig, Trombly and Grobbel and other families had brick making businesses.

January 26, 1837. In Washington, DC, President Andrew Jackson signed the bill making Michigan the nation's twenty-sixth state. At this time Warren was just beginning to be settled. Soon saw mills were set up to cut logs into boards which were better for building. Detroit. Eastern Market was founded in 1841. Out farmers sold produce there. The population of Warren Township was 249 in 1837, 337 in 1840, and 421 in 1845. The new immigrants were mostly farmers, from New England.

“On April 3, 1837 an undetermined number of citizens met at the home of Louis Groesbeck to organize the government of Hickory Township... This first meeting chose as its Chairman Avery Denison; as its Clerk, Samuel Gibbs; as Election Inspectors, Louis Beaufait, Alonzo Haight, and Jenison Glazier.” The first township officers were: Supervisor was Samuel Gibbs, Clerk Alonzo Haight; Justices of the Peace, Alonzo Haight, Lyman Rhodes, Samuel Gibbs, and John Barton. The town board was made up of Samuel Gibbs, Alonzo Haight, John Barton and Lyman Rhodes. There was no treasurer for the first two years. Also elected were three Assessors, three Highway Commissioners, two Overseers of the poor, three Constables, three Commissioners of Common Schools, and a Tax Collector. Louis Groesbeck was one of the overseers of the poor. (from Warren Township Records)

Public officials were almost always part time. One exception to that was the county sheriff.

The earliest report of a Dr was from the 1850 census which showed Carlos Glazier 30 physician. There was a Dr William Simonds born April 3 1830 in Canada. who practiced in the late 1870s and perhaps sooner. He often got paid in chickens according to his family which historian Wes Arnold interviewed. He died Nov 11, 1898 of an injury and drowning. Dr Garrison was a local doctor but became ill for sometime about 1878. Dr Garrison recovered and returned to his practice in 1879. Dr John C Flynn 1850-1910 came to Warren in 1882 but due to illness moved to Colorado in 1883. He came back to Warren upon regaining his health and continued his practice. And there was Doctor W H Smith MD who has a big monument in Warren Union Cemetery showing Oct 1856-Dec 1899. Then there was Doctor Edward W LaDoucour 1869-1927. After that there were many doctors.

Several merchants set up on Mound at Chicago Road. Later the village had gasoline lamps installed for evening lighting with A.C Lyons as lamplighter. He had married John Beebe's daughter and was also the village clerk just after his brother in law Charles Beebe. There were dozens of merchants over the years. Charles Franklin Peck had a store on SW corner of Mound and Chicago Rd. Perhaps the most prominent were the Mason brothers. But all the money in the world could not stop scarlet fever from killing some of their children. It appears they started as blacksmiths, then expanded into making wagons then buggys. The buggy was how folks got around back then. Later on, a drawing of their carriage factory appeared in a local atlas. They also had a general store with clothing and other common items. In 1879 Mason added agricultural implements. George Bolam who was one of the earliest settlers put in 35 years as a civil servant and for awhile was called "King of Warren." John and Dave Wilson built a grain mill and coal depot with water for the trains at the rail road tracks to the east of the village. They sold out to A V Church who sold it to the Warren Farm Bureau which ran until 1922. It was organized into a stock cooperative called the Warren Coop opening in 1924. The Harwood family operated a Lumber yard and saw mill near there. We know there were at least three churches in Warren Village and more than one tavern. There was a Warren Hotel. An old village map lists The Warren Canning Company. There were several dairy creameries at different times. A distillery is mentioned in some literature but I couldn't find the name. The village white smith (tin smith) was first John (James) L Beebe, then James Strong then Joseph Langel. Arnold Harwood was a very prominent person in Warren Village for over 25 years. I replaced his missing marker, if the Warren hysterical grave robber gang haven't stolen it yet as they did several veterans memorials listing those who died for our freedoms and are buried in Warren Union Cemetery. They even ripped out Warren's Unknown Soldier's memorial off of a grave. See cemetery pages for details. Arnold Harwood ran the main lumber yard and was a pastor of the local ME church for 25 years. He was also a justice of the peace. Ormal Stevens was the village undertaker. He later died in France in WWI.

Charles Davy a pioneer and pastor whose daughter married John Beebe tin smith and toll gate keeper. John Beebe's son Charles became a sailor, preacher and undertaker. John's wife Ester D and the Davys were born in England as were many Warren Village residents. Where the toll gate was located is now unknown but it is believed to have been on Mound or Chicago road and in the village. Reasoning is that this was the main route to Detroit that had spots that had been planked because being very muddy. If Beebe was to work his trade and watch the toll gate it had to be near his shop just south of Chicago Road. Later James Strong took over as toll gate keeper. Peter Gillette pioneer farmer on Chicago Rd,

Other notables were first the Groesbeck family who were the first to officially buy land and settle in Warren Township, and bought more land here than anyone else. They had the first sawmill, first log cabin, probably first frame house, first residents who claimed to be lawyers, first lawsuit to sue boys over chasing a skunk, and many other firsts.

George Berz 1811-1893, had the North school named after him. Pastor Otto Keller 1858-1938, pastor of the St. Paul's Church from 1885-1908. May V. Peck 1885-1980, a teacher for 45 years had a school in Warren named in her honor. R.D. Smith, 1803- 1999. He was Justice of the Peace in 1839. He had the following epitaph: "A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled." There are other interesting epitaphs at local cemeteries many are now unreadable.

But the following message from the grave stands out. “DO GOOD WHILE YOU STILL CAN, BEFORE ITS TOO LATE.” “

Behold and see as you pass by, as you are now, so once was I, as I am now you soon will be, prepare thyself to follow me, USE TIME WISELY WASTE IT NOT, AS SOON THIS TO WILL BE YOUR LOT.”

In the 1830s everyone was a farmer or housekeeper. See companion DVD for census details. In 1850 notable persons: Able Warren clergyman lived just north, near James Warren who was a cooper who had a very important function that of making containers like barrels, buckets etc., John W Kingscott age 27 SOLDIER b England, Harvey Harwood 23 fisherman, Francis Striker gunsmith, Charles Davie ME clergy, John Moecy was a blacksmith.

In the 1800s and early 1900s neighbors often helped each other. They practiced the rule of “Do to others only what you would want done to yourself.” We called it the Golden Rule. It should be the standard of human conduct.

1860 had Judson Mason, Jacob Schmids, Medana Bezoyer as blacksmiths. Other occupations in 1860 besides farmer and housekeeper were: Ben Stanley Candle Maker, Alice Wright 18 School Teacher, Louis Grosbeck 20, Charles Grosbeck S 24, William A 19 all Lawyers, Jacob Cramer mill wright, Francis Stryker Gun Smith, Polly Royce 18 Teacher, Peter Kline & Stephen Kline, John Holder shoemaker, James Strong toll gatekeeper, Michael Stagene Nail Smith, Joahim Kruger miller, John Albright, Charles Davy Clergyman, Daniel Stuart rail road, seven carpenters. No doctors were listed.

In 1870 many more occupations were recorded too many to fit in this summary so see the companion DVD or web site for more info. But here are just a few highlights: Another toll gate keeper Phil White near to James Strong who also Keeps Toll, Grocer and Brewer Henry Heunt from Germany, several sawmill workers living with Alexander Groesbeck, carpenters, blacksmiths, several grocers, a butcher shop, a taylor, minsters, breakman, gunsmith, Philippe Hurnys MARINER, Enuright William 32 b Ireland TEACHER, Lewis Groesbeck and Grosbeck Charles Lumberman, several household servants lived with different families, Smith Joseph 46 GROCER & SALOON this was on Van Dyke, Judson C Mason 36 Blacksmith and Carriage shop and many workers, Tharrett John 71 became a GROCER, Beebe John L 54 TIN SMITH wife Esther D 50 b England son Charles S 7 b MI, Halsey Silas E 38 works in shoe shop Paul Ardembek Shoemaker 1880 occupations other than farming are increasingly more numerous, here are some highlights see macombhistory.us. Many carpenters, many retired, shoemakers, painters, engineer, butcher dressmaker, several sailors, several servants, several clerks, ministers, brick mason, school teacher Benjamin Bowden 55, grocers Joseph Buechel & Sophia. Blacksmiths: Peter Cline 26, Edwin Tharrett. tin smith John L Beebe 64 living with son Charles A 16 a sailor. Judson Mason blacksmith employed other blacksmiths and wagon makers, Ella Wright 23 music teacher, Doctors William Simonds, William Teery.

Saloon keepers Frank Vandentir, Louis Canrad. William Murthum hunter, Arnold Harwood Lumber dealer. Grocers: Oliver Barton, Edmond Halsey, Solman Gilman, Thomas Ceaen?, and William Cole. The census actually listed the Burough of Beebes Corners.

1900 Census occupations showed increasing diversification outside of farming, some that were listed were: many brick makers, mason, painters, peddler of Literature, molder, wheelright Railroad Laborer, several carpenters, blacksmiths, Edward Peck, Frank C salesman, several salesmen, store workers, shoemaker, harness makers, dress maker, John Martin cattle buyer, school teachers Hiram Halsey, Kathren McCanulay 21, Marria Tharrett 25, Clarra Wilson 17 music teacher, Homer Harwood 30 Publisher, Arnold Harwood 83

Lumber dealer, John Wilson mill had grist mill, Archibald C Lyons painter, John Flynn 50 doctor, Ormal Stevens 30 undertaker, Wright Tharrett 57 teamster, Joseph Langell 23 tinner, Frank Langell 26 tinsmith, Anthony Beelman 49 hotel keeper & son Joseph 19 bartender, Matthias Berger 62 hotel keeper and son Peter 17 bar tender, George Chipchase harness maker, David Wilson mill. Warren village area grocers Martin Crawford, Clinton E Hoard, Frank Peck 33 clerk salesman, blacksmiths listed: Henry Fisher, August Sehert, Cluerlos Gurlach, several families had servants. Many of these folks are now in Warren Union Cemetery many without markers. As the years get closer to the present the names get more familiar because they are names our parents talked about.

The Miller family ran Miller's Tavern c 1880 on Van Dyke near where Harding street is now.

Center Line area 1900 occupations: Edward Ladorcur 37 doctor, Knight Robert 37 physician, Frances J Miller merchant, Frank L Groesbeck servant salesman, Robert A Miller saloon, Kaltz Peter servant, Kramer John Priest St Clement, John Buchel grocer, Vileyman August saloon man, Holahouse Hilary teacher, Hemmen Xaver teacher, Kelly Domitilfa teacher, Cecilia Wuerth music teacher

Warren Township went from wilderness in the 1830 to stump farms in 1840 to improved farms around 1850 where farmers sold their product to Detroit first by wagon then so called truck farming, followed by industrialization and urbanization in the 1940s. Frank Halsey, was postmaster in Warren around 1910-1915. and during World War I he ran the telephone exchange which was located in the old post office.

Fred Gemmill stated Alfred Parks operated a grain and feed mill and cider mill and stated there was a Warren Roller Mill. Fred mentions the Brooks Drug store and the J B Moore building on the South East corner of Mound and Chicago Road which is still there. He stated that Whippers, Nash and Willys-Overland cars were sold there prior to 1927. In the village area of Warren most of the occupations were still related to farming.

The Lumber Industry was winding down after years of cutting of trees. But sawmills would still be around until late 1970 when the Bunert saw mill closed down. Warren Township was nearly all an area of farms until urbanization took over, in the early 1900s. Agriculture was the main occupation and life of the residents.

The State road had been planked, stages ran daily, trains ran three times a day and stopped at Ten Mile Road called Warren Station later named Groesbeck. This stage and train stop came to be known as Kunrod's corners because of Kunrod's tavern. The family had been in the area since the 1840s. He was a Civil War veteran who ran the tavern but his wife appears to have been the main business person in the family. She had several land dealings. She purchased the property where the tavern was located from Mary Schmidt in 1885.

Joseph Buechel had purchased property from William Groesbeck in 1878. He built and ran a general and drug store at 10 Mile Road on the main state road which was next to the Detroit and Bay City Rail Road. This and Spinnings station in Warren Village were the busiest places in the township. In 1893 Buechel rented an acre of land from Jos Cramer so he could move his store next to St Clement. Soon business shifted from the State Road (Sherwood) to the "Centre" Line Road (VanDyke.) Folks were calling the area Center Line because of the road.

The interurban (electric trolley) line from Detroit to Ten Mile road along Van Dyke ran from 1900-1930. This led to a steady stream of new residents who were not farmers. The area along that strip became known as Van Dyke and Center Line and it soon surpassed in population the rest of Warren.

1900 occupations: James Belour telegraph operator, George Eckstine, Karl Langel, Fred Grechnort, Jauonde Moore, ran repair shops, Charley Evens ran the brickyard,

Edward Busch ran grocery store, Fredrick Lutz hardware store, May Peck, Gusta Bachsmier, Bessie Hatch, Norma Hartsig, Marie Berirdit, Irma Kolmorgan, Ernest Herron were school teachers, Herbert Masten ran the Hotel, John Malburg hardware, Wm Archenbrown barber, Arno Themie had cobbler & harness shop, Herbert Rivard hardware, Edward LaDoueour, Stanley Addison Physicians. Geo Vohs well driller soon to be followed by Claeys. Joseph Langel plumbing shop, Fred Warblow electrician, Orsan Buttu at age 71 ran the ice cream parlor, Fredrick Gabelnrunn preacher, Charles Garlack blacksmith with son Carl, son George was wagon maker. Henry Lyon one of many carpenters, wife Eva postmaster, Charles Boening, Herbert Hoxey mail carriers, Francis Kennellz ran shoe shop, Lambert Distelrath Creamery truck driver, Arandus Brinker blacksmith, Wm Weis bottling works, Homer Harwood Editor, Fred Cromie Bank cashier,

Center Line was becoming a village with stores, and cafes Here are some of the occupations there: LeRoy Wm and son Blacksmith, August Miller Cafe, Robert Miller cafe, Weigand Andrew well driller, Giff Richard Real estate agent, Silela DeLong, Francis Jarewba, Cora Rickibush telephone operators, Ray Stillwell lumber dealer, Rinke Joseph, Norbert, Edgar Rinke ran hardware, Buechel John with family ran grocery store, son Buechel Anthony 14 had news stand, Girtile Nicodime meats, Along 10 Mile Road Qualman William dairy farm, Kaiser Julius coal yard, Memphis Ave, Ingraham William grocer. Ruth Fischer, Gertrude Kena seamstress in tailor shop, Louis Lutz Baker, Belle Wilson ran grocery store, Joseph Weigand, Thorwold Jorgensen, Joseph Kutchy ran repair garages, John Kramer priest, and nuns, Farming was still the main occupation. Many general farms became specialized into general, truck, dairy, poultry, and cattle farms.

We had freedom to raise chickens for food and eggs without being fined

In 1938 Chrysler Corporation donated a fire truck and the first fire hall was built (in 1939) next to the Township Hall at Van Dyke and 11 Mile roads. Soon from a modest beginning of volunteer firemen with no equipment to a volunteer fire department with two full time men Warren's fire department grew to one of the best in the country.

In 1939 Warren's first fire station was built. Vern Lumex and William Van Hulle were hired as fireman. Salary was $130 a month. They still had volunteer firefighters. In 1951 two more fire halls were built. In 1955 the Nine Mile and Federal fire hall was built followed some time later by the fire hall on Twelve Mile Road by Hoover. In 1957 William Burr was hired as Fire Commissioner.

Police protection which had been under County Sheriff moved to Warren Township control in 1950.

Locally elected Warren constables assisted the Sheriff until 1927. In the early 1920s the Sheriff established a Warren branch office with one and sometimes two regular officers and a few special deputies. In April 1927 Henry Kuhn and Charles Krause were the local sheriffs officers. The Town board appointed Ray Bush as Township Officer to work with the Sheriff's deputies. In 1937 Max Bookout and George Collins were appointed as our first Policemen at $175 per month. Collins was appointed as Warren's first Police Chief. The Eighteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, established Prohibition in the United States in 1919. It was repealed by the Twenty-first Amendment in 1933.

During this time the Detroit area was a hotbed of illegal activity. There were many speak-easys in Warren. Clem's Pour House was one of many that were open 24-7. You could not get in unless you were known by someone inside. "As many as 25,000 illicit saloons, or "blind pigs," operated in Detroit area and did a $215 million business. There were also establishments like Rosie's Red Light on Ryan and the Ryan Riding stables where men could pay extra for a "special ride." The New York Times accurately proclaimed that Detroit was the "Rum Capital of the Nation" and that liquor trafficking was Michigan's second leading industry. (Lawrence E. Ziewacz 228) Warren and Center Line often had more bars than churches.

Detroit Edison began putting in electricity in the early 1900s. The American Can company was founded in 1901 and produced 90% of cans used for food in Michigan. (Wikipedia) Most families canned their own foods but as stores began carrying canned foods people had better year around choices for food with less work involved. By 1922 there was a Radio in most homes and 7 Michigan stations. Telephone service began around 1920 but was not in all areas. Sewers were put in. Natural gas service arrived in the late 1920's. In 1928 water service from Detroit was started in Warren. Most of the growth area was in southern Warren south of Eleven Mile road. Center Line wanting a fire department, water and sewers voted to become a village in 1925 and a city in 1936. The area went from rural to urban with a huge growth in population. The Harwood house built around 1880, home of Homer Harwood who published Warren's first newspaper, the Warren Watchman from 1880-1921. In 1909 Henry L Claeys came to Warren with a well drilling machine. The Wiegand family were also well drillers and sponsored a community cistern near St Clement church..

Henry Ford by offering 5 dollars a day which was almost double what men were earning in 1914 caused a lot of people to move to Detroit from around the country. In 1916 a refrigerator cost $900 then, by 1920 10,000 were sold, by 1925 75,000 were sold. With this the Automobile industry got a big boost and many persons worked at car factories. Stores began to sell appliances. World Wars One and Two led to heavy urbanization of Warren. There was great expansion in the tool and die industries, small manufacturing and multiple stores. Multiple new businesses were opened. These lasted awhile, some closed, many were sold to new owners.

The above means that there were hundreds of new businesses in the Warren area. Without spending hundreds of hours of research time keeping track of them all is nearly impossible.

A three fold listing listing follows namely by years, by Name/location, by location. This last item will be handy as one can see how businesses have changed at that location. Please consider that this is an ongoing project and more will be added as research is compiled.

Businesses in 1920s Alibi Bar. Louie's Bar, Center Bar, 20 Century Bar, Pour House, Rinke Motors, Schusters Service, Courtesy Service, Amber House,. Warren Co Op, Base Line Feed Store.

Businesses in the 1930s included Walker Brewing Company on Ten Mile Road, Schoensee Brothers Market, Tompkin's Ice Cream, Van Ten Market, Robinsons Department Store, Liberty theater, VanDale theater, Rivard Car Dealer, A & P Grocery Store, Ma Zotts restaurant later to add bowling.

1940s With the coming of the Detroit Tank Arsenal into Warren there was tremendous growth. The population doubled. Temporary trailer parks were erected. A big one was just North East of 11 Mile Road and Van Dyke. Kramer Homes was built. Center line Gardens and other military housing was built on Mound. The Victory school had ten rooms was built next to Ellis School Many tool and die shops and other businesses sprang up. There were shortages, lack of water systems, lack of sewers, lack of drainage, lack of police and fire protection. New housing had been built. Such as Cramer Homes, Center Line Gardens on Mound and a trailer park city near 11 mile road and Van Dyke. I remember looking across the area and seeing fields nearly everywhere we went in Warren. Developers turned the farmer's fields into subdivisions as the demand for housing increased. A lot of building was going on with related businesses such as lumber yards opening. Along with it a lot of sewers with water and gas utilities and road paving businesses. Great expansion in schools see schools section and page 86 Many Libraries.. Motor City speedway, many theaters, Beverly Hills Golf Course, USO, Motor city Theater, Ryan Theater, Grissom Car Dealer, Rotary Steel,

1950s Prop Shop Hobbies, Burlers Variety Store, Homer's Drug Store
1950 automatic washing machines in common use and there were several appliance stores opened. The milk men also made his rounds using their special trucks. There were Twin Pines and Sealtest Dairies. later Jones and Laughlin, was located on Eight Mile Road just east of Mound Road where we watched the steel being poured then formed into big orange hot blocks.

Soon Carboly Company open on 8 Mile Road.

Warren high was opened in 1951.

1952 Korean armistice signed (July 27). The Korean War also cost local lives. The Cold War increased.

South Macomb Community College was founded in 1953. It started with 22 teachers in rented rooms at Lincoln High School.

During and after World War II America saw tremendous economic growth and was the world's richest country. Americans felt united. Most people conformed to their group norms. The 1950s may have been the most conservative in our history. It was known as the American Decade and it was filled with a lot of optimism.

Drive Ins

A&W had delicious root beer which was made of real sassafras not some imitation. There were car hops that came to your car and took the order.

A & W and Ronnie's drive in on Van Dyke were popular. You parked your car, rolled down your window and a waitress would place a tray on the window with the drinks and food. If you wanted more service you flashed your lights.

Ronnie's actually was an A & W for awhile.
